AAC in Action is a partner training program with the goal of supporting AAC users to expand their communication skills.

This workshop series is designed for parents, family members, therapists, school staff, or anyone who interacts with children who use picture-based AAC systems. Participants will gain skills through video analysis, live demonstration and small group assignments.

Participants may attend unlimited workshops.
Repeat attendance is encouraged!

Each month, the overall workshop format will remain the same to invite new participants to acquire skills, and to help returning participants build their mastery across different communication settings. Each month's hands-on activities may change to best support the needs of the attendees. Partner training will include using: Aided Language Stimulation, Expectation Delay, Non-Verbal Prompts, and Contingent Responding.
